■ Creeping Vine ($CREEP) Whitepaper

1. Introduction

Creeping Vine ($CREEP) is a fair-launch meme token inspired by the surreal art of Matt Furie, specifically the 'Creeping Vine' motif first introduced and named in his recent solo show at Left Field Gallery. The image of vines sprouting from bones mirrors crypto's own cycle of chaos and renewal.

2. Vision & Philosophy

$CREEP merges underground art culture and crypto meme culture. By combining Furie's artistic inspiration with blockchain transparency, $CREEP aims to be more than a speculative coin: a cultural experiment, a meme ecosystem, and a community that grows organically, like vines spreading over walls.

3. Tokenomics

■ Total Supply: 1,000,000,000 $CREEP
■ Taxes: 0% buy / 0% sell (forever)
■ Liquidity: 100% burnt
■ Ownership: Renounced
■ Distribution: 100% Fair Launch

4. Roadmap – How the Vine Creeps

Phase 1 – Plant the Seed ■
- Fair launch
- DexTools, DexScreener, GeckoTerminal listings

Phase 2 – Spread the Vines ■
- CoinGecko + CoinMarketCap applications
- Meme contests & sticker drops
- Community raids on X/TG

Phase 3 – Climb the Walls ■
- Trending pushes
- First CEX listings
- Expanding lore-driven meme campaigns

Phase 4 – Bloom Into Madness ■
- NFT meme art gallery inspired by Furie's world
- Partnerships & collabs
- Meme cult status

5. Community & Commitment

$CREEP is built on three principles:
- Transparency – fair launch, verifiable contract, open development.
- Community First – no central control, collective decision-making.
- Meme Power – humor and culture as the real utility.
